Campbell Sanitary District Sewer Offer Reasonable, Says Reinoehl

The Town of Campbell is in an enviable situation because of its already existing Campbell Sanitary District, according to the report of Don Reinoehl, engineer for Santa Clara County Sanitation District No. 4. The main trunk sewer was constructed with general obligation bond funds in the amount of $95,000, of which amount $50,000 in bonds are outstanding. The interest rate is 3 1/2 per cent and the annual payment on the principal is $5000.

This trunk sewer is necessary to and may be used as an integral part of the trunk sewerage system of District No. 4, according to the report. Since the present cost of construction of this sewer would be approximately $120,000 it appears reasonable to accept the offer of the Campbell District to relinquish ownership of this sewer to District No. 4 upon payment of the principal and interest payments as they become due in return for providing adequate trunk sewerage to the Campbell District.

The voters of District No. 4 will be called upon to approve an issue of $1,640,000 at the election on November 8.

Fourth District Engineers Reinoehl and Cedric Macabee met Friday with Santa Clara County and San Jose officials to discuss plans for the district to hook up with the San Jose outfall sewer.

Softball Fund to $2549.93

A donation of $20 from the Five Spot has been received by the Campbell Softball Association for the field lighting fund. Mrs. Mary Grey, treasurer, reported today. Total now stands at $2549.93, still considerably below the $3000 material and installation cost.

Deciduous Fruit Industry Program For 1950 Released By State Farm Bureau

Santa Clara County Farm Bureau Chairman Carleton Rouse of Edenvale and Prune Chairman Robert McArthur of Cupertino, received instructions this week from Charles Preuss, chairman of the deciduous fruit department, California Farm Bureau, on the preparation and plans on the program for the deciduous fruit industry which the department will endeavor to accomplish in 1950.

Chairman Preuss in his instructions urged County Fruit Chairmen to hold meetings in the very near future with their grower members for the purpose of developing a plan of work and projects for submission to the annual meeting of the Deciduous Fruit Department at the 31st Annual Convention of the California Farm Bureau Federation in Long Beach, November 14, 1949.

Chairman Preuss suggested to chairmen Rouse and McArthur that the county fruit department give the following items consideration and study at their meetings with determination to be prepared to report at the department's annual meeting as to the desire of the fruit growers in Santa Clara County:

1. To endeavor to activate county deciduous fruit departments in the various deciduous fruit producing counties, to the end that producers may be better informed of the problems affecting their interests, and enabled to reach conclusions as to the most effective measures which may be undertaken to alleviate such problems.
2. Continue support of principle that section 32 funds should be used only for those purposes contemplated in the original legislation, namely, to promote domestic utilization and export of commodities in surplus.
3. Continue support of school lunch program.
4. Support all efforts to expand the cooperative marketing of fresh, dried and canned fruits.
5. Continue support of San Francisco's Farmers Market, and endeavor to assist any other local group working for the institution of other bona fide farmers markets.
6. Continue efforts to promote the construction in San Francisco of a modern produce market to replace present obsolete, costly facilities.
7. Continue support for an active research program to control the Oriental Fruit Fly.
8. Urge the University of California to undertake as an engineering project the development of mechanical equipment for cutting and drying cut fruit, suitable for use on average sized orchards.
9. To support the endeavors of the Apricot Section to obtain the institution of a marketing order controlling the quality of dried apricots reaching consumers.
10. To support the endeavors of the shipping peach industry to effectuate a marketing order governing the size, quality and maturity of fresh peaches for consumption in California.
11. To provide through the Farm Bureau Monthly and by other means a maximum amount of information to producers relative to the marketing of deciduous fruits, the economic factors affecting the outlook, and legislative and other activities affecting the welfare of producers of deciduous fruits.

12. To promote, through the American Farm Bureau Fruit and Vegetable Committee, arrangements with food distribution organizations for maximum merchandising in 1950 of deciduous fruits in surplus supply.
13. To urge a maximum of surplus deciduous fruits for school lunch and institutional use from section 32 and school lunch program funds.
14. To assist the dried fruit industries of California to obtain assistance in moving dried fruits in excess of domestic needs into those foreign markets which have historically utilized such supplies.
15. To complete organization of county fruit sections.
16. To work with other groups in the fruit industry to develop and obtain approval of a fruit marketing order for 1950 and subsequent years.
17. To support the endeavors of the plum industry to institute a 1950 plum marketing order governing quality of plums for consumption in California.
18. To urge the University of California to undertake research work aimed at finding more effective means of controlling brown rot.
19. To urge the California Farm Bureau Federation and the American Farm Bureau Federation to continue its efforts to maintain freight rates at minimum levels.
20. To seek amendment of the California marketing act to provide that a marketing order may be instituted by referendum procedure provided that at least 51 per cent of the producers vote in the referendum and at least 65 per cent of those voting favor the institution of the program.
21. To support amendment of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act to include canning of fruits.
22. To seek remedial action from the Public Utilities Commission with regard to the problem of the small growers who are assessed on individual, and consequently high, hauling charge even though shipments from several of these growers go to the same destination from the same loading dock.
23. To check up on the community cannery situation and promote more if possible.
24. To consider more adequate compensation for marketing agreement committee members for the time spent attending meetings.

Dr. Jay C. Elder Tells Rotarians Of Visit To Near East

Dr. Jay C. Elder, dean of academic education at San Jose State College, told Campbell Rotary Club members of his recent two-months' cruise to England, France, Italy and Greece. His principal subject for the Monday noon address was "The Ethnic Background of the Near Eastern Peoples."

The speaker likened the area covered by the travelers from Haifa to Damascus to the topography, temperature and humidity to be found on a trip from Santa Cruz to Tracy. He described the cultural, religious, political and economic conditions in the Near East, and their effect upon the lives of the various racial and religious groups in that part of the world.

His recent trip marked Dr. Elder's forty-first Atlantic crossing. The dean has taught at San Jose State and Normal School for forty-one years.

Speaker at next Monday's session will be Charles Lamb, representative of Forest Lawn Insurance Company. He will be introduced by the chairman, David Rutherford.

Guests at last Monday's meeting were George Lindquist and George Sullivan, Santa Clara; Thomas Hudspeth, Jerry Gerard, Marquis E. Reitzel, Ed P. Nide, Chester W. Mason, San Jose; Ed Prandi, Stanley Smith, J. H. Roda, Bob Pulver and J. F. Dair, Beverly-Burbank; Lyman Johnson, Bob Farsberg, Sunnyvale, and F. T. Schaefer, Willows.

Planners Refuse Rezoning For Gas Station

Application of Lee Clevenger to reclassify from residential to commercial zoning property on the northwest corner of Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road and Hacienda Avenue was denied Wednesday by the Santa Clara County Planning Commission.

This was the final of two public hearings on Clevenger's request. He sought rezoning in order to construct and operate a gas station at the corner. Property owners in the residential zone opposed the request stating the natural beauty of the highway should be retained. Protestants at the hearing were George Linden and B. A. Miller.

Application of the West Valley Hospital District board of directors for $725,224 in state and federal funds was denied this week by the State Advisory Hospital Council meeting in Los Angeles.

Herbert M. Shadle of Campbell, chairman of the board, said the State Council had received requests from three hospitals in the county for funds, but that all had been turned down. He explained that there are insufficient federal funds available this year for other than the most needy hospital areas, and the state council had allocated $4,000,000 for construction and expansion of hospitals in more needy rural and mountain districts of the state.

West Valley Hospital District board had sought allocation of state and federal funds, equalling one-third each of the estimated $1,087,836 amount the board believed necessary for construction of a hospital serving the Campbell-Saratoga-Los Gatos area. The final third would be raised through local taxation within the district, or through bond issue.

Hope that a bill now in Congress which would double the federal hospital aid fund for the entire country, raising it to $150,000,000, would enable the West Valley district to obtain funds next year, was expressed by Shadle. He added that he and board secretary Harry Whiteham of Los Gatos had conferred with State Board of Health representative George Derry in San Francisco last week. At that time the two learned that they could not hope for state or federal fund allocations this year. When the two suggested that present preliminary plans for the proposed hospital could be modified to reduce the total building cost from over $1,000,000 to about $500,000, Derry reportedly indicated that such a move would probably increase the district's chances for obtaining state and federal aid during the next fiscal year. The chairman said the board will submit a second request for aid under the 1950 budget.

Shadle said today that the board has already requested the County Board of Supervisors to include in its budget a $25,000 fund for purchase of a site for the future hospital, plus various expenses. This will probably cost taxpayers of the district about eight cents, he added.

Asked if the board's plans still call for a 40-bed hospital, Shadle said they have plans for a 50-bed layout, but that medical advisors suggested they increase the size to 60 or 70 beds, which alteration could probably be accomplished without adding too heavily to the over-all estimated cost.

Under the fund application procedure, the state allocates one-third of the building cost for such hospital districts if accepted under the aid program, and the federal government matches the amount set aside by the state. The district, itself, must raise the final third.

Asked if the board's plans still call for a 40-bed hospital, Shadle said they have plans for a 50-bed layout, but that medical advisors suggested they increase the size to 60 or 70 beds, which alteration could probably be accomplished without adding too heavily to the over-all estimated cost.

Under the fund application procedure, the state allocates one-third of the building cost for such hospital districts if accepted under the aid program, and the federal government matches the amount set aside by the state. The district, itself, must raise the final third.

Shadle said today that the board has already requested the County Board of Supervisors to include in its budget a $25,000 fund for purchase of a site for the future hospital, plus various expenses. This will probably cost taxpayers of the district about eight cents, he added.

Girls' State Delegate Lorraine Wood Gives Report To Legion Auxiliary

American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 596, and the members' guests were entertained at their September 14 meeting by Miss Lorraine Wood who gave a report on her week's stay at Girls' State, the Americanism school, held last June in Sacramento.

"I didn't know anyone could learn so much in one week," Miss Wood commented, as she told of all the government workings in which she and her fellow Girls' Staters participated. Campaigns and elections were held by the delegates for offices pertaining to city, county and state government. Jury trials were conducted by the girls—in fact, all governmental problems were studied and the girls learned by doing.

The highlight of the week is always the election and inauguration of the Girls' State governor, who this year was Miss Rosemary Rood from Chico. A trip to the capitol building, governor's offices and to see the State Legislature in session was another form of education given the girls.

Miss Wood, a senior student at Campbell High School, is an accomplished pianist and was chosen to accompany the candlelight ceremony which is an impressive program presented by the girls at the close of their session. Miss Wood is also an organist, holding the position of church organist in the Campbell Congregational Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wood of Rincon Avenue, Campbell.

Girls' Staters are sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliaries and are chosen from their respective high schools by their principal and faculty on the basis of leadership, scholarship and good moral character.

Business of the Auxiliary at its meeting was transacted with Mrs. William Burch, president, presiding. Mrs. Leslie Fairchild, Americanism chairman, told of new rules governing the Americanism essay contest. Mrs. Clarence Fagelde, rehabilitation chairman, reported on the summer activities of the unit in the Palo Alto Veterans Hospital. An indoctrination course was held for hospital workers recently, with 10 of the local unit members attending.

Mrs. Harold E. Peck, a past president of the unit, was reported confined to her home on account of illness. Mrs. Glen Knowles is a patient at O'Connor Hospital. Mrs. Leslie Fairchild, second vice-president, will enter Los Angeles Hospital the last of September. The unit extended their wishes for speedy recovery of these members.

WE SALUTE... Our Merchants!

Storekeepers, we think, are entirely too modest. They serve you and your family faithfully every day. Yet how often do you remember their importance in your life? The merchant is a businessman. He must carry a heavy investment. He must own his building or pay rent for it. There are clerks and salespeople to pay. And a constantly-changing display of food or merchandise of some kind. The merchant must always make you think that "the customer is always right." Which isn't always true. So remember the trials and tribulations of your grocer, cleaner, department store merchant, et cetera. And give them the fairness they deserve!

RACHEL'S

Tribute to Soldier

NEWSPAPERS carried a little note about President Truman driving his own car to Leesburg, Va., recently, but there was no other explanation of why he went there. Here is the reason why:

Some weeks ago, Sen. Cabot Lodge, Massachusetts Republican, was visiting Gen. George Marshall at Leesburg, when the ex-secretary of state showed him the grave of Col. Edward D. Baker, former U.S. senator from Oregon, killed in action during the Civil War.

The stone marker was covered with moss. Vines and vegetation had grown up over the spot, and General Marshall remarked to the senator from Massachusetts that it was a shame a senator from Oregon who had fought so gallantly should be so ungraciously remembered.

Later, General Marshall reported this to President Truman, and some days later, Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon got a message from the President telling him that a former Oregon senator lay unremembered at Leesburg, and suggesting that they both visit the grave.

Morse accepted. But before leaving, he sent over to the library of congress to find out more about Colonel Baker. The library reported that he was killed at Ball's Bluff, Va., but buried at Lone Mountain cemetery, San Francisco. Furthermore, the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who was wounded in the same battle, described in one of his books how Senator Baker's body was carried back to the west coast—at that time an unheard-of trip for a war casualty.

Truman as Chauffeur

Senator Morse, however, had no opportunity to break this news to President Truman until the two got in the White House car—a Lincoln—for their drive to Leesburg.

Their first conversation was about the fact that the President was driving himself, the senator discreetly inquiring when the President had last driven.

Mr. Truman admitted he hadn't driven for a couple of years, but said he still remembered how. As the trip continued, it was evident that whatever the President lacked in skill as a chauffeur, he made up in zealous driving. With the secret service men sitting nervously in the rear, the President enjoyed every minute of it.

Finally, Senator Morse broke the news.

"I looked up Senator Baker of Oregon," he said, "and the library of congress informs me that while he was shot at Ball's Bluff, he was buried at San Francisco."

The Presidential car nearly swerved off the road.

Recovering, Mr. Truman said that General Marshall would feel bad about bringing them all the way to Leesburg for nothing. We mustn't hurt his feelings," he added. "You leave this to me."

So, after lunch, as General Marshall escorted the party three miles away to the supposed grave of Senator Baker, Mr. Truman broke the news that he wasn't buried there after all. General Marshall wasn't entirely convinced, however, and led them to the grave.

There they found that the library of congress was right. The tombstone was merely a marker stating that "Col. Baker was killed here, Oct. 21, 1861." There was no indication that he was buried there. In fact, the bodies of 54 other federal soldiers had been removed to a near-by grave.

General Marshall felt bad about bringing the President and Senator Morse down to Leesburg on a wild-goose chase, but they didn't feel that way at all. They were delighted to have the excuse to get away from Washington, and they arranged to have a gardener tidy up the spot where Colonel Baker fell. No new monument, they agreed, was necessary.

Note—Senator Baker, born in England, served in the house of representatives from Illinois, then moved to Oregon about the time of the gold rush and was elected to the U.S. senate from Oregon in 1859. He enlisted in the 71st Pennsylvania volunteers, and was temporarily commissioned a major general.

Secret Lounge

The story has never been told how the Democrats discovered a secret cocktail lounge in the Capitol building after they took over from the Republicans.

The lounge was fixed up by ex-Sen. Curly Brooks of Illinois and his political protégé, ex-Sergeant-at-arms Edward McGinnis, in one of the historic rooms of the Capitol. When Brooks lost, Sen. Hayden (Ariz.) found the lounge.

The critical shortage of hospital beds and surgery facilities in this area has been eased by the announcement that Doctor's Hospital, 976 Lenzen Avenue, San Jose, has been granted a license to operate as a general hospital.

This will provide 42 beds and a modern new surgical unit for major as well as minor cases.

The State Department of Public Health granted the license, effective September 13. One of the reasons for granting of the application was given as the critical need for hospital units and surgical care in this area.

It is pointed out that even expansions planned by the San Jose and O'Connor Hospitals will still leave the community short of the recognized minimum hospital facilities.

Doctors General Hospital was built in 1946, and operated as a convalescent home. The plant was taken over last year by Dr. William E. Denmark, who will continue to head the establishment as medical director. He is expected to name a general manager within a few days.

The new surgical unit, pronounced most modern in the Bay Area, is of shock and explosion proof construction. New X-ray and laboratory facilities have been added. The hospital will be open to all licensed physicians and surgeons in the community, according to Dr. Denmark. The hospital now has a staff of 40 persons.

A public open house and dedication will be held Sunday, September 25 from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Parking Petition Readied By C of C For Circulation

Campbell Chamber of Commerce has begun circulation of a petition seeking solution for the congested parking problem in Campbell. Copies will be circulated through local merchants, and anyone wishing to sign the petition may do so.

Addressed to Joseph McKinnon, Supervisor for the Fourth District, the petition reads as follows: "Please be advised that we the undersigned are hereby requesting your attention to the parking problem in Campbell. We want this to be a signal to you that the situation has become most acute, and some parking regulation should be installed in the near future. At the same time we are aware that there are certain difficulties and obstacles involved, but also know that all problems have a solution of one type or another. Your sincere and expeditious attention to this matter will be highly appreciated, and be assured that our cooperation and assistance is to be taken for granted."

Chamber of Commerce president J. M. Dahl, and secretary Forrest Reese stated they hope to put the signed petition before Mr. McKinnon at an early date.

Although there was not a quorum present at the Chamber's monthly meeting Wednesday night, the members present drew up a letter to be sent to the Merchant patrol committee expressing to the group the thanks of the chamber and of the community for the excellent job which it completed with selection of a merchant patrolman recently. The letter also reappointed the five-man board to serve as a merchant patrol committee for the balance of the year.

Schools Are Crowded As Enrollments Reach Record Peaks In This Area

School children in Campbell area schools trooped back to classes this week after a summer vacation, and their increased number placed capacity loads on school facilities.

Campbell Grammar School district's three schools, Campbell, Moorpark and San Tomas, registered a total of 2300 compared to last year's 1895. The total by schools for this year and last is, Campbell, 1250, 1039; Moorpark, 645, 493; San Tomas, 405, 363.

At Campbell High school the enrollment climbed from the previous high of 920 to 962. Cambrian Grammar School registered 505 for its crowded classrooms. Last year's total was 480. Union Grammar school found its new building crowded by an enrollment of 241, compared to 165 for 1948.

All school officials stressed the point that "this isn't all." Before the first weeks of school are over, an additional 200 to 300 pupils are expected to add to the crowd.

Footlighters Speed Work On Sets For October Play

With Mr. LBen Howard cracking the whip, and a crew who have fun while working, the Footlighters are rapidly completing a whole new set of flats for their production of "Double Door," October 28 and 29 at Campbell High School auditorium. Making the frames and covering them with muslin is not an easy job, but LBen and his crew of Dean Chamberlain, Andy Antisdale, Al Mauseth, Mac Ross, Ida and Budd Levenberg and Dan Gould, are doing an expert job according to their fellow workers.

On completion of the flats, Footlighter artist and chief paint slinger Ethan Lanphear will start his decorating job.

Sponsor of the three-act play by Elizabeth McFadden is the High School Parent-Teacher Association.

National Guard Record Praised By Rev. Corwin Olds

Members of the National Guard set an enviable record for service during the recent conflict and contributed substantially to the allies' victory, the Rev. Corwin Olds of Campbell Congregational Church, told Kiwanis Club members Tuesday.

Rev. Olds, who is senior chaplain for the California National Guard, holds the rank of colonel. He was introduced to Kiwanians by chairman J. M. Dahl, and spoke on the "National Guard and the Adjutant General's office."

The Adjutant General is the chief of staff to the governor at the state level and directs the National Guard activities in his state. Dating back to colonial days when its members were known as militiamen, the National Guard is as local as well as a national security source. At present its members may be called citizen soldiers, said Colonel Olds, and they undergo limited training throughout the year. National Guard strength for California is approximately 20,000, he reported, and the troops are subject to call in emergencies, and are dispersed throughout the entire state ready for urgent action.

During the meeting Budd Levenberg was presented an attendance pin denoting six years of perfect attendance. In the absence of President Lowell Benson, vice-president William C. Henley officiated.

Next week Campbell Kiwanians will hold an inter-club meeting, with Los Alto Kiwanis Club at Campbell. The visiting club will furnish the program.

Prune Industry Conferees Expect Federal Assistance

The committee of five prune industry leaders, which conferred last week with officials of the United States Department of Agriculture concerning an industry program for the 1949 crop, have returned from Washington and report having had a very satisfactory series of conferences.

Robert A. McArthur, Cupertino grower and chairman of the Prune Administrative Committee which administers the new federal marketing agreement program for prunes, reported that he and his associates were assured that the department will shortly make an announcement concerning assistance to the industry through subsidy programs included in their discussions.

The Secretary of Agriculture has announced that the salable tonnage and surplus tonnage percentages will be 75 percent and 25 percent respectively as the industry had recommended.

Accompanying McArthur were Lewis W. Armstrong, San Jose grower; Frank Woods, St. Helena grower; R. L. Engell, San Francisco, California Packing Corporation and T. O. Kluge, San Jose, general manager, California Prune and Apricot Growers Association.

The first "East-West" football game, Stanford vs. University of Chicago, was played in San Francisco December 25, 1894.

Rally Day Sunday For Methodist Congregation

Rally Day will be observed at the Campbell Methodist Church next Sunday. The Sunday School classes will meet at 9:45 o'clock, then will assemble in the church for a special program by the various departments. A special feature will be the presentation of the members of the Cradle Roll by Mrs. N. A. Cowdery, the Cradle Roll superintendent.

At the 11 o'clock service, Mrs. Evelyn Buck will sing the special solo, "The pastor, Lawrence J. Osborne, will preach on the subject, "Our Future Church."

Let's Browse In Campbell Library

Another in the Society of America series, this one dealing with San Francisco, has recently arrived at the Campbell Branch of the Santa Clara County Library. Mrs. Elizabeth Singletary, county librarian, reviews this and other recent additions in the following paragraphs.

Altrochi, Mrs. Julia.
The Spectacular San Franciscans 1949

One of the Society of America series, of which "The Proper Bostonians" was such a fascinating example, Mrs. Altrochi presents the interesting and lively story of San Francisco society, customs and activities from early Spanish American days to 1947. The book lives up to its title fully, and deals only with citizens of that colorful city who added richness or excitement, with emphasis on the high life of the community. The approach is scholarly, a great deal of research was done in preparation of the work, and a definite contribution has been made to the story of California.

Jones, Jack.

Some Trust in Charlots, 1949.

Told with the rhythmic turn of sentence and idiom of the Welsh, the author tells the story of the Tewdws of Cardiff in South Wales, and most especially of the God-fearing Rhys and his more worldly nephew Harry. For sixty years they disagreed in their personal and business affairs, but as old men found peace together on the family farm. Although the author introduces a multitude of characters into his tale, he keeps both characters and events distinct and succeeds in giving reality to a country, a way of life and a people. Reminiscent of "How Green Was My Valley" this, too, is a very enjoyable book.

Panova, Vera.

The Train, 1949.

This a simple, unpretentious story of a group of men and women thrown together in a hospital train crossing Russia during World War II. As the individual hopes of each man and woman are assaulted by the impact of external forces, each character emerges as a living personality, so vital and sympathetic is their portrayal. Translated from the Russian and reminding us in some ways of earlier writers, the outstanding impression received from Mme. Panova's novel is that it is a story of universal appeal which could have been set just as well in any other country during wartime.

Steen, Marguerite.

Twilight on The Floods.

The Floods of "The Sun Was My Undoing" live again in this story which deals with the Victorian descendants of that earlier family. They prove to be a stuffy lot except for young Johnny who ran away to Africa when he was fourteen; his brief visit left a profound mark upon him, and, coupled with the discovery that his great-grandfather had been a slave trader, awakened a personal sense of obligation to Africa and its people. The story of his efforts to pay the debt he felt his family owed the black people is written in a vivid style that creates a sharp impression of the sights and sounds of the Africa of his day, as well as of the many characters introduced into the story.

Speedway Fans Promised Thrills

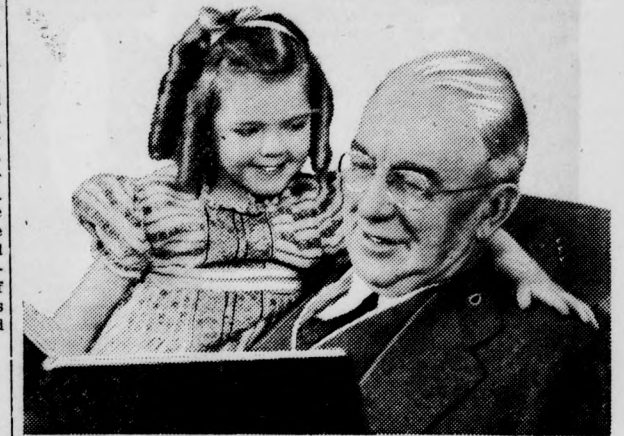

"We're making this a big racing weekend," say San Jose Speedway promoters Joe Mastrini and Ray Leon in reference to this week's speed sessions at their track.

Friday night's regular Hot Rod program will be fattened by a six-car Destruction Derby and a "thrill stunt" by Ray Bray. Bray will hasten the demise of a Stock Car by driving at break-neck speed over a platform. The Speedway says the resulting flip by the car will be "quite a show."

The destruction derby will be the largest presented this year at the Speedway from the standpoint of entries. The hot rod time trials begin at 7—races at 8:15.

Palo Alto Children's Theater will present "Cinderella," this Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Montalvo outdoor theater under direction of Mrs. Hazel Robertson. Above, left to right, are three of the young players, Stephen Graham, the prince; Nancy Weddas, the fairy godmother, and Stewart Graham, the cousin of the prince.

Beloved Fairy Tale, 'Cinderella,' To Play At Montalvo Saturday

"Cinderella," the well-beloved fairy story, will bring to life on Saturday, September 24, so many of the famous characters that children and adults feel they know. The play will be enacted at Montalvo on that date at 2 p.m., by the Children's theater of Palo Alto.

Belinda Rose plays the part of the lovely Cinderella; Paul Santos is the Prince who fits the tiny glass slipper to her foot, the fairy godmother is played by Nancy Weddas of San Carlos. Nancy is the original writer of "Pixie Kitten," the radio program of that name, given over station KEEN every Wednesday at 3:45 p.m.

The play is being sponsored by the Friends of Montalvo as part of the program offered this summer, using Montalvo for the fine purpose Senator Phelan wished it to be used.

Mr. Colin Campbell, executive chairman of the Friends of Montalvo, announces that Mrs. Buford Payne is general chairman for the children's program. Assisting her on the production side, are the Mesdames W. A. Brown, Virgil Campbell, William Dusel, and Reginald Loftus. Mrs. Henry Gilbert has charge of ticket distribution in Saratoga, and anyone wishing tickets in this area should call her. Mrs. Michael McLaughlin is in charge of tickets in Cupertino, Mrs. Homer Hyde in Campbell, and Mrs. Howard Olson in Los Gatos. Mrs. Thomas Haire and Mrs. Elizabeth McSwain Jones are in play, and Mrs. Ansten Ness has charge of the luncheon which will be served.

UWF Plays Get Palo Alto Theater Performance

Saratoga-Los Gatos Chapter, United World Federalists, will present a repeat performance of three one-act plays this Friday and Saturday at the Palo Alto Community Theater. The plays were presented in Los Gatos last July. Miss Dorthea Johnston of Saratoga will again serve as director.

The local group is also making plans to produce the plays in San Francisco. The one-act trio consists of "Hands Across The Sea," Noel Coward, and "Aria Da Capo," Edna St. Vincent Millay, and "The Sweetmeat Game," Ruth Comfort Mitchell.

THE FARMER'S CORNER

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California).

Raging across the States political front today is one of the bitterest battles ever waged in California history.

On one side is the California Council for the Blind—official sponsors of Proposition 2—and allies (the Congress of Parents and Teachers, League of Women Voters, State Chamber of Commerce, and others). Taking up the cudgels in opposition is a pension pressure group headed by George H. McLain.

To gain perspective on Proposition 2—which will be voted on at the November 8 Special Election—it is imperative that every California voter clearly understand the issues involved.

There is no question regarding the amount of pension payments. Proposition 2 provides for the same $75 monthly to the aged and $85 monthly to the blind as is paid now. However, in all other respects, Number 2 repeals outright the "fine-print" provisions of the McLain pension scheme, passed as Proposition 4 on last year's ballot. The new Proposition 2, sponsors state, "returns pension administration to a sound, workable basis, subject to normal legislative and gubernatorial controls."

The McLain pension scheme—which would be overthrown by Proposition 2—first came under fire because it took away local responsibility for pension administration and established a super "government within a government" to administer all phases of aged and blind in Sacramento.

In addition, this McLain scheme is attacked because it installed Mrs. Myrtle Williams in a new, all-powerful office of State Director of Social Welfare at $12,000 a year and "necessary" expenses. The new pension boss, formerly secretary-treasurer of McLain's pension clique, has, by his scheme, been made judge, jury, prosecutor, and administrator over all pension applicants. There is no appeal from her decisions.

The California Council for the Blind and its many allies in the campaign for a "yes" vote on Proposition 2 take determined exception to the above provisions of the McLain pension scheme. It is the Council's contention that most voters thought they were helping the aged and blind when they approved the McLain pension scheme—but that just the opposite was the case.

In other words, few will quarrel with the amount of pension aid; it is the vicious provisions of the scheme which must be removed from the State Constitution in order to place pension administration back on a sound basis. Briefly, then, this is the case for a 'yes' vote on Proposition 2.

The McLain group obviously fears the new, corrective aged and blind initiative, for if Proposition 2 is successful, it will strip McLain of his power and his former secretary-treasurer will be removed as State Director of Social Welfare.

Scout Roll Call Opening Gun For Fall Activities

Cub Packs, Scout Troops, and Senior Units of the Santa Clara Boy Scout Council will participate in a nation-wide roll call during the week of September 25. Roll call for the 93 units of the council area will be conducted under the direction of the commissioner's staff, according to a recent announcement by Council Commissioner Milt Ryder.

Unit leaders have received a copy of the National Roll Call form with the roster of their unit attached and uniform inspection cards for each member of the group. District commissioners in each district have assigned their neighborhood commissioners to conduct the roll call for the units of their district. Each unit will hold a special program during roll call week with the parents and general public invited to witness the roll call ceremony.

Attendance of active members will be checked by the roll call officers, and other information such as present rank of boys, advancement record, outdoor camping experiences, and a check on adult leadership will be required on the roll call blank. Uniform inspection will be conducted and each boy scored according to a national scoring plan.

A feature of the evening program will be the inducting into Explorer Scouting of boys of scout troops who have reached their 14th birthday and the presentation of their national explorer certificates. Many Cub packs will graduate their 11-year old cubs into a scout troop under the new lower age requirements for boy scouting.

The units of the council who have joined the crusade to "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" will be scored on the attainment they have made toward their 1949 crusade objectives. Roll call results will be turned over to each district commissioner who in turn will forward them to the council office for tabulation and reporting to the national headquarters in New York. The roll call will be the opening gun for the fall and winter scouting activities for 2489 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Senior Scouts of the local council.

Can you think of anything else that Does so much .. costs so little?

Vacuuming six room-sized rugs for a penny's worth of electricity... that's one example of how P.G. and E. service gives you your biggest household bargain in these days of high-cost living. Matter of fact, it's the best gas and electric buy in the nation.

Bay region people, for instance, pay less for service than those in any other of the country's 25 largest cities. And P.G. and E. farm rates are much lower than the national average for all utilities—including tax-free cooperatives and government-owned systems.

Remember back when it took the best part of a day to wash-board the clothes? Now a penny will buy the electricity to scrub two tubs of laundry. All you do to put it to work is touch a switch.

For fun as well as work, P.G. and E. service is a budget-stretcher. You can hear five of your favorite radio programs for a penny. Can you think of anything else that does so much for so little cost?

for the record
Nearly 17,000 people

Cutting Horse Finals Slated For Grand National

Cutting horse contests, newest and most spectacular of the horse show competitions, will be one of the top arena features of the Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo at the Cow Palace next month, it was announced today.

Championship finals of the National Cutting Horse Association, for a purse of $1500 plus entry fees, will be contested during the first five days of the show, opening October 28, according to Carl L. Garrison, secretary-manager of the Cow Palace.

The highly trained and nimble-footed cutting horses take their name from their job, which is to "cut" cattle from a herd and direct them to loading chutes, to the branding area, or wherever desired.

Arena competition follows the pattern of their highly specialized jobs on the big cattle ranches of the plains country. Rodeo and horse show crowds have marveled at the intelligence and uncanny agility of these horses as they maneuver and shadow-box with steers while directing them to imaginary loading chutes and checking their frantic rushes to regain the security of the herd.

"It's the fastest and most exciting equine competition imaginable," Garrison asserted, "and we will have the top cutting horses in the nation competing here for the championships."
